Numerous Small Veins Lying West of Yough Between Here and Cumberland Will be Worked.

GOOD FOR STEAM PURPOSES

There are Any Number of These Veins Awaiting Transportation Facilities to be Developed—Considerable Timber Acreage Ready.

With the building of the Western Maryland will come the development of a number of small veins of coal which underlie the hills west of the Youghiogheny river which heretofore have been of practically no value because there were no transportation facilities. These veins are not large but the coal is good for fuel and steam purposes. The western bank of the Youghiogheny river has been without a railroad and the coal was not of sufficient value to warrant expensive equipment to get the output across the river to the Baltimore & Ohio, especially since much of the acreage lays several miles back from the river.

It will, however, be comparatively inexpensive to run spurs and branches up the various runs to the mines that will be developed.

The Western Maryland is also figured on considerable traffic from the timber. While there is not a large quantity of big stuff to be gotten out, the lumber of the mountains is sufficient to yield considerable tonnage.

From Dunbar creek to Confluence side of the Yough river, and east of there is no railroad on the western bank of the river. There is nothing on the opposite bank of the Confluence from the Baltimore & Ohio for a number of miles. A large territory will be opened for development with the completion of the Western Maryland.

EARLY HUNTERS RETURN; REPORT GAME SCARCE.

Too Many Leaves on the Trees and Ground for Successful Sport.

Burgess J. L. Evans and W. L. Wright this morning drove into Somerset county and will be gone until Friday. They will hunt over portions of Somerset county and hope to bring back plenty of game.

Last evening B. T. Sherrick, W. D. Sherrick and Cooper Patterson returned from an invasion of Springfield township. They found a few quail and shot eight of one lonely pheasant. There seemed to be plenty of rabbits as the season for them is not yet in.

The first hunters who took advantage of the opening of the hunting season last Saturday are beginning to return. Last evening saw the arrival in Connellsville of several parties, most of whom were only passing through town on their journey home.

W. D. Lingenfelter and C. E. Booth, Brownville railroad men, came down the mountain during the afternoon bringing 15 grey squirrels, the result of a day and a half's hunt. E. A. Kunkle, manager of the Greensburg skating rink, and E. P. Fisher, a contractor of the same town, were like-wise the possessors of 15 grey squirrels, and also one Indian boy. The last is a beauty, its small body being a silky black with pure white feathers about the neck, while bright red on the head makes it a fine specimen.

The birds are said to be very scarce in this section of the country. Kunkle who brought down the boy, has decided to have it mounted. For some years past these two men have made an annual trip up the Yough every hunting season. This year they visited the region about Confluence.

O. Johnson and George Burnworth, both of Tower Hill composed another party, and have been tramping the country near Greensburg for the last three days. Three pheasants, three grey squirrels and 10 red squirrels crowned their efforts as sportsmen.

All hunters are hoping for rain, the one thing needed to make the present season a success. Brush fires and even forest fires are in danger of starting should the dry spell continue.

A fire in the woods above Dunbar, occurred yesterday afternoon. While not in the hunting district, this only forecasts the danger that is approaching.

Doctor's Little Boy Plays Druggist; Bulletin—"He's Resting Easy Now."

Charles, the small son of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Utts, West Side, is an ambitious youngster. But it was demonstrated yesterday that the tot is yet decidedly too young to engage in a study of materia medica or attempt to delve into a research of therapeutics. If Charles could read the labels on the bottles in his father's office and understand their meaning, he would not have had the exciting experience that befell him.

During the absence of his father, Charles played with the bottles in the office and then undertook a few experiments in pharmacy. Evidently he failed to properly diagnose his ailment, or, else failed to double check his own compound. Anyway he swallowed a large dose of a powerful drug.

The child was in a serious condition for several hours and under the care of a physician. Today he is well and wiser.

STATEMENT FILED IN LARGEST SUIT.

Mrs. Louise Moser Wants $100,000 From B. Frank Smith.

REASONS FOR THE BIG CLAIM

Says Injuries to Her Husband Were Negligently, Unlawfully, Carelessly and Wrongfully Caused—Attorney John Duggan, Jr., Files the Papers.

UNIONTOWN, Oct. 19.—The statement of claim in the largest suit for personal damages ever instituted in Fayette county, was filed this afternoon by Attorney John Duggan, Jr., of the action of Mrs. Louise Moser, in her own right, and Catherine and Louise, minor children of Evans Moser.

One hundred thousand dollars is asked of B. Frank Smith, alleged to be the murderer of his father, D. Porter Smith, and brother-in-law, Evans Moser, who were slain by him on February 27, 1910.

The plaintiff, in her own right, complains that the defendant is indebted to her in the sum of $100,000, upon a cause of action as follows: That at the time of committing the grievous homicide complained of, the plaintiff was peacefully residing with her husband, Evans Moser and their two children, Catherine and Louise, in Georgetown township on a farm rented from her father, Daniel Porter Smith, and procuring a living therefrom.

That on or about the 27th day of February, 1910, the plaintiff, returning from church at Smithfield about 3:15 P. M. had noticed that a few minutes later her attention was attracted by the firing of a shot near her home. She arose and went to the kitchen door and was there met by D. Frank Smith who had in his possession a large Winchester rifle of .44 calibre. He requested then and there the whereabouts of her husband, Evans Moser, stating that he intended to kill him.

Whereupon the defendant rushed the plaintiff up the stairs into the second floor, returned again, rushed into the bedroom where her husband had been sleeping, through to the next room in the rear of the bed room and while the husband was pushing on the door, to prevent the defendant from entering, he shot twice, inflicting fatal wounds, and did then, feloniously, willfully and unlawfully make an assault with malice aforethought, kill and murder Evans Moser.

The injuries were negligently, unlawfully, carelessly and wrongfully caused. Plaintiff avers she was then enjoying the comfort and companionship of her husband, receiving from him care, maintenance and the enjoyment of his society for herself and family and from this comfort, society, fellowship, assistance, support and maintenance she has been deprived for all time by the willful, felonious, negligent, malicious and vicious act of the defendant.

In addition to these matters she has expended large sums of money for the funeral expenses, all of which has caused her a damage of $50,000. The plaintiff further alleges that the injuries were in now way the fault of her, but were the direct results of the malicious and vicious act of this defendant and he is justly indebted to her in the sum to recover which this suit is brought.

PARADE COMMITTEE MEETING CALLED FOR THURSDAY NIGHT.

Plans for Halloween Celebration are Fast Being Worked Out by Those in Charge.

P. BUFANO FIRST LOCAL MAN IN THE COLONIAL CONGRESS.

Will Participate in Movement for Betterment of Italian Immigrants.

P. Bufano, the well known local banker, has the honor of being the first Connellsville man to be selected as a member of the Colonial Congress to be held in Philadelphia in the near future. Mr. Bufano forwarded his acceptance yesterday afternoon.

It is only recently that a movement has been started for the holding of the congress, which will be for the benefit of the Italian people of America in general. It is proposed to bind the hundreds of small societies throughout this country into one body if possible.

The plans to be worked out, after this is accomplished are numerous. Efforts will be made to have the Italian government assist in schooling their classes in this country, as well as Italy. It is a well known fact that a large number of the Italians who emigrate to this country are practically uneducated. If present plans of the congress are worked out, the Italian government will be petitioned to cooperate with it in seeing that a smaller percentage of the ignorant class emigrate to America without first securing some sort of an education.

The movement in favor of the congress was started recently by several societies of Philadelphia and "La Voce del Popolo," an Italian daily paper, and has had the support of all who have been approached on the subject. Among these is the "Ninth" Cavalry, a unit of the Italian army, stationed at Fort Mifflin, and at present a police magistrate. He is one of the leaders at the present time.

A committee has been appointed to get in communication with the many societies throughout the United States, with V. DeVirgillis of Philadelphia acting as Secretary. Each society will have the privilege of sending one representative. There are two in Connellsville, while Pittsburgh supports about 20.

Plans for the congress are yet in a primary stage; no date has been set for the place of holding the meetings selected. They are expected to be announced within two or three weeks.

Connellsville Women May Consider Suffrage Question—What Next?

Miss Harriet Clark, delegate of the Woman's Culture Club of Connellsville, is in Saratoga today, attending the fifteenth annual meeting of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women where for the first time in the history of the Federation Woman's Suffrage will become a real live topic.

That the question is to become a burning one is forecasted in the talk made by Miss Mary Winsor of Haverford.

She declared that a limited suffrage was not undemocratic or was it American. It was indicated that suffrage bills will be presented before the Pennsylvania legislature at its approaching session.

Just how this feature of the federation movement is going to be regarded by the Connellsville club women remains to be seen, but Miss Clark will probably have a detailed report to make upon her return.

SOCIETY.

Celebrate Wedding Anniversary.

In honor of their tenth wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. William N. Leche delightfully entertained 225 of their friends at a large reception and dinner last evening at the Armory. The secret of their wedding anniversary was so carefully guarded that it was not known by the guests until the affair was given to celebrate the event until after their arrival at the Armory. The announcement came as a great surprise. Not since the annual military ball has the Armory been the scene of an large and brilliant social function as the one last evening, and perhaps never were the decorations as pretty. The affair was complete in all appointments. Great clusters of autumn leaves adorned the walls, lights and balcony, while depending at intervals from the ceiling and the balcony were large silk flags. Palms and ferns were arranged in a manner which produced a very pretty effect. The large boys of huge, ornate, miniature formed the decorations in the card room on the second floor. Mr. and Mrs. Leche were seated in receiving by Mrs. Leche, who was assisted by Mrs. Leche, who also served as hostess at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Leche. The aides were Mrs. J. Duane Porter, Mrs. J. M. Young, Mrs. Harry Dunn and Mrs. H. P. Atkinson. Mrs. Leche wore a handsome white messaline satin gown trimmed with hands embroidered in gold. Mrs. Atkinson was gowned in emerald colored messaline satin trimmed with pearl trimmings, while Mrs. Dunn wore a pretty white embroidered robe over pink. Mrs. Porter was in pink crepe de chine over pink silk and Mrs. Young wore a white robe of embroidery and lace over yellow.

The reception was from 8 until 9 o'clock when the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Kifer's orchestra, the grand march led by Mr. and Mrs. Leche took place, after which dancing was general and was kept up until midnight. The spacious hall with its attractive decorations and elaborately gowned ladies presented a scene of rare beauty. Kifer's four piece orchestra furnished the music and while the orchestra is always at its best the concert of the guests was the orchestra's excellent itself last evening. During the evening refreshments were served. While the hall room was the scene of much gaiety the lovers of five hundred spent several hours around the card tables arranged in the card room. The tables were daintily adorned with colonial wares and wreaths of flowers. Not the smallest detail was overlooked by Mr. and Mrs. Leche and their aides in looking after the entertainment of their guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Leche were married in Lancaster, Pa., at the home of Mrs. Leche, who before her marriage was Miss Mary Virginia Maurer, a prominent young woman of Lancaster. Among the out of town guests were Miss Catherine Daryl of Joliet, Ill., the guest of Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Elder; Miss Laura E. Buckman, of Lancaster, Pa., the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond S. Clark; Miss Gertrude Ottlinger of Cleveland, O., the guest of Miss Florence Goldsmith; Miss Lucinda Goss of Meyersdale, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. ## THE WORLD'S SAVINGS.

Tremendous sums put away by the people in 100 years. In the early part of 1810 there was not a Savings Bank in the world. Today—100 years later—there are savings banks in every civilized country and the savings deposits of the world amount to more than 14 millions of dollars. In this country alone, savings amount to nearly four billions. More and more people realize every day that a savings account is the best protection against want; the best provision for old age. It is something everybody needs, and the First National Bank in Connelville, is an excellent place to have it. Four per cent interest, $1.00 opens an account.

Good Way to Use Hyomei for Catarrh.

Besides breathing through the nostrils a few times a day, many entirely unaided write that they find inhaling HYOMEI (pronounced High-o-mey) from a bowl of steaming water each night before retiring a great aid in curing stubborn cases.

Try it! It's very simple; gives quick relief and makes you breathe easier. Fill a bowl half full of boiling water; pour into the water a teaspoonful of HYOMEI, cover head and bowl with a towel, and breathe through nose and mouth the pleasant, medicated, antiseptic and healing vapor that arises.

This method relieves that stuffiness at once, and makes your head feel fine.

You can get a bottle of HYOMEI at druggists everywhere or at A. A. Clarke's for only 50 cents. Ask for extra bottle HYOMEI Inhalant. But bear in mind that a HYOMEI outfit which includes Inhalant and bottle of HYOMEI costs $1.00.

But, as stated before, if you already own an Inhalant, a bottle of HYOMEI costs but 50 cents. HYOMEI is guaranteed by A. A. Clarke and druggists everywhere to cure catarrh, sore throat, coughs, colds, asthma and croup, or money back. Try it on that generous basis.

Let Me Tell You Something

A woman who is sick and suffering and won't at least try a medicine which has the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is to blame for her own wretched condition.

There are literally hundreds of thousands of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over thirty years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering. Read what these women say:

Camden, N. J.—"It is with pleasure that I send my testimonial for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, hoping it may induce other suffering women to avail themselves of the benefit of this valuable remedy. 'I suffered from pains in my back and side, sick headache, no appetite, was tired and nervous all the time, and so weak I could hardly stand. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman—and this valuable medicine shall always have my praise.'—Mrs. W. F. Valentine, 902 Lincoln Ave., Camden, N. J.

Buffalo, N. Y.—"I am writing to tell you that I am pleased with your medicine. I had been sick for a long time with prolapsus. I heard about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I have found that it is the right kind of medicine for me. I felt relieved after taking one bottle and I kept on taking it till now I am well and strong, and am able to do my work."—Mrs. Henry Kossov, 472 Genesee St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, it is not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering from the same trouble?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for her advice—it is free and always helpful.

The Famous Rayo

Does Not Strain the Eyes

Don't use a small, concentrated light over one shoulder. It puts an unequal strain on your eyes. Use a diffused, soft, mellow light that cannot flicker, that equalizes the work of the eyes, such as the Rayo Lamp gives, and avoid eye strain.

The Rayo is designed to give the best light, and it does. It has a strong, durable shade-holder that is held firm and true. A new burner gives added strength. Made of solid brass and finished in nickel. Easy to keep polished. The Rayo is low priced, but no other lamp gives a better light at any price.

DRUM 66 YEARS OLD IN PARADE.

Atlantic City Hears G. A. R. Relic Lustily Beaten.

OWNER 10 YEARS ITS SENIOR

Sounder of Onsets First Played in Polk Presidential Campaign and Later Through Civil War—First Owner Wonderful Player.

A drum made sixty-six years ago out of an ash tree at Rockwood, Fulton county, N. Y., was played at the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Atlantic City, and was made by two brothers, ten and twelve years of age.

The younger of the boys played the drum through the campaign that elected James K. Polk to the presidency. Later he played it clear through the civil war and drummed the Thirtieth Illinois Infantry into every engagement in which it participated. Today he is an inmate of the Soldiers' home at Oregon, Wash. The drum went with him by slow stages across the continent, and it went back with him to the Atlantic City encampment.

The drummer, Sanford C. West, is now seventy-six. He is a little old man, blind in one eye and weighing not much more than 100 pounds, but he puts the fire and energy of a boy into his drumming.

He can drum standing with his back to the drum as well as face front. He is a born drummer, easy for teaching from the time he wore his first trousers. He drummed at public meetings before he was eight.

One of Pioneer Families. West comes from one of those old American families which eternally go west. His people arrived in New England some time in colonial days. By 1834 they had got as far as Rockwood, N. Y., where they were pioneers. There Sanford drummed in the Polk campaign, and he was with the drum on the march to the west.

By the time Lincoln was running for president the family had got to Illinois, and young Sanford drummed through that campaign too. The Thirtieth Illinois Infantry was the first that enlisted for three years. West was never out of commission one day of that three years, nor did he miss one engagement.

His hat was shot off his head at Lookout Mountain, but not a hair of his head was touched. At the first attack on Vicksburg the sharpshooters aimed at him when he was stooping over and sent two bullets through the wrinkles of his blouse, but didn't scratch him.

It was his business to drum the boys into the fight and then help carry the wounded off the field on stretchers. At the Battle of the Clouds, he shot through the leg of the man who was handling the stretcher with him. West carried him off the field on his back, got another man and went back for the fellow who had left on the stretcher. He seemed to bear a charmed life.

By the time the war was over Illinois had grown too tame and civilized for the West blood. West moved to Nebraska and made his home there for the most of his life. It was while encamped in Nebraska that he met the woman that was due him in the war.

Wounded by Mule. A Nebraska mule did what the Confederate sharpshooters were never able to do. The creature kicked him on the head in a way to blind one eye for life. Twenty-eight pieces of his skull were removed from the wound, and a permanent indentation was made on the left side of his head.

Still he drummed with the same cheerful vigor and seems as interested in life as any boy. Nebraska grew too civilized for him eventually, and he made his way gradually westward until he reached the Pacific. Being unable to proceed further he stopped, disconnected, and has since lingered as near the jumping off place as he could. Marquis Lafayette Fowler, leader of the Washington life and drama corps, is the old drummer boy's side partner. His given name betrays the Revolutionary atmosphere that surrounded the life of the old drummer boy.

He has played the life for fifty-six years. He played it in campaign meetings when Fremont ran for president at Charlotte, Mich. He went to the front with the Twentieth Michigan. There has never been a year since the war that he has not had charge of a life and drama corps somewhere.

He declares that in an experience of fifty years West is the best drummer he ever knew.

Long Distance Pipe Line. DEKIN (Special).—Pipes are being laid by the Brothers Valley Coal Company from Miller's creek which will supply water for the operation of the plant at McDonough. The water company has failed to remedy the famine situation and the coal company resorted to the new plan.

For the Sake of Others.

Consider it Her Duty to Tell.

I write this for publication with the hope that it will influence others who suffer as I did, to try the great Root Juice remedy. The wonderful medicine has done so much good for me that I feel it my duty to tell it. For years I spent a life of misery, but thanks to the great discovery, I am now a free man, every ache and pain, like many others, was very unexpected when the report first told of the many hundreds of cures Root Juice was making, but after seeing several people that were cured, I concluded to try it, although I felt that every organ of my body was almost worn out. My liver was torpid, my kidneys were weak and my stomach was in a terrible condition. At times it felt like it was full of rocks. A great deal of gas formed and I had a constant belching. My appetite was very poor and even in hot weather my hands and feet were cold. I was using some kind of medicine most of the time, without much benefit. After taking the Juice a few days I began to feel better. I have now four bottles and am feeling better than I have for twenty years, and I believe the remedy would cure any one who has been suffering from the same kind of trouble. Root Juice is sold for $1 a bottle, or three for $2.50.

STEEL JOBBERS AND COKE BROKERS.

The announcement that the United States Steel Corporation has determined to eliminate the middlemen by establishing its own warehouses in all the principal cities and becoming its own jobber indicates that the management of this giant corporation does not need a magnifying glass to see where its interior interests are.

What the jobbers have done to the business of the Steel Corporation and to the steel trade generally, the coke brokers have done to the business of the Connelville coke operators. The jobbers and brokers have encouraged competition which was profitable to everybody but themselves. Their policy has resulted in lower steel and coke prices and higher commissions and larger gains to themselves.

The United States Steel Corporation has seen a great light and with this corporation to see is to act. A large majority of the Connelville coke producers have been convinced, at least partially through the efforts of The Courier looking toward their enlightenment, that the coke broker is about as useful to them as a fifth wheel to a wagon; but, with them, to see is not always to act, for the reason that they are either a close corporation or a cohesive community of interest.

The establishment of a joint coke selling agency would not only better their price conditions, but it would also bring them closer together and encourage concert of action in other important matters connected with their business. It would, in short, stimulate the adoption of policies which would necessarily inure to their benefit collectively and individually. There is some excuse for the jobber in steel. He has his warehouse and his agents. The coke broker has neither. His office may be in his hat. He does not necessarily have a dollar invested in the coke business. He takes commissions both ways and the producer and consumer get what is left, that is to say they get left.

THE TROUBLES OF
AMATEUR POLITICAL BOSSSES.

The political situation in Connelville is a very trying one to the amateur political boss, who are engaged in an earnest endeavor to overturn in the name of political virtue the Republican organization of Pennsylvania.

When Hon. Bill Herry thought the Hon. Web Grim would pull more votes than he could he was willing to withdraw from the Keystone ticket. If Grim would agree to vacate his place on the Democratic ticket, but Stateman Grim with a glare of indignation stood pat.

Now that the Hon. Web Grim has accumulated some doubts concerning his sweeping victory and is beginning to fear that he will be third in the race, he has reluctantly agreed to resign, provided always the Hon. Bill Herry will do likewise. But the Hon. Bill has become inflated with the notion that he is the only big name in this campaign, and that his silver tongue has created a political atmosphere which will result in the overwhelming realization of the Keystone dream, which is to smash both the Republican and the Democratic "machines" at one smashing smash, and his backbones has become iron in consequence. He laughs to scorn the late repentance of the Hon. Web Grim and says: "Leo would have liked it very much if Grant had withdrawn from Appomattox."

OUR MISLEADING
TELEPHONE DIRECTORIES.

The local Bell telephone directory is sadly in need of an editor. The operators do not always insist upon the subscriber furnishing them with the number of the party wanted, and they should not. It would take some time to find some of the names, and some people wouldn't find some of them in a week. The Fayette county daily newspapers, for example, are listed thus:

COURIER "Connellsville Courier Co." and "Courier," both names being widely separated, there is no such company as "Connellsville Courier Co." NEWS "Connellsville News Publishing Co." which is right save that the "Connellsville" is not a part of the corporate name.

NEWS STANDARD, listed as "News Publishing Company," which is correct but very misleading. The majority of people know the paper only by the title first given.

HERALD and GENUINE, being published by our company, do not appear anywhere in the directory. We find only the name of the corporation publishing, "Fayette Publishing Co." This is even more misleading than the News Standard index name.

The publishing firms should perhaps be listed, but the names of the newspapers are more important for the reason that 90% of the people look for them in the directory.

It continues to be demonstrated that the railway track is a path of danger.

The record of the Republican party of Pennsylvania is not so black as some of the opposition love to paint it. It is the record of a party that has upon the whole governed more wisely and more honestly than the party who governed Pennsylvania during the preceding fifty years. The Good Old Summer seems to have crowded Autumn Winter on the shoulder. However, there's blow on the South, and we will probably have a spell of weather ere long. The present weather is ideal, but it involves an unsatisfactory rainfall and water supply which are either responsible for bad public health or at least are endangering the spread of dangerous infections and contagious diseases. Such as we learn to part with the Summer 1910, necessarily demands rainfall at any cost of disagreeable weather conditions.

PROCLAMATION.

Scottdale's Chief Official Describes Plan for Halloween.

NO FEAR FROM HOME FOLK

But Those From Outside May Not Be Acquainted With Custom That Has Grown In Mill Town—Expects Thousands In Town October 29.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTSDALE, Oct. 19.—There was a good sized attendance at the Halloween meeting at the Borough building last evening and the plans then considered were those most to do with committees already appointed. John H. Gordon is chief marshal of the parade for Saturday evening, October 29, and he desires that all organizations and those expecting to have displays in the parade report to him by telephone No. 50, Erie Car Shop, or No. 12 the Borough building between 7 and 8 P. M., not later than Thursday, October 27. Aides and other committees will be announced soon. Burgess R. P. Ellis today issues his proclamation through the newspapers which fully explains Scottdale's plan of celebration. The Burgess says:

"In pursuance of the well established custom of celebrating Halloween, the great autumn holiday evening, in Scottdale, in a safe and sane manner so that Scottdale's celebration has been widely commended and has served as a model for other towns, which give credit to Scottdale's starting of the custom locally. I as Chief Burgess desire to make the following proclamation:

"It is the desire of the Borough officials to give an evening of innocent outdoor pastime that old and young may enjoy, and to that end we would call attention to the fact that since starting this formal observance of Halloween there has been an entire cessation of vandalism and disorder that seemed inseparable with Halloween. Past spectacles indicate that we have nothing to fear from our own people, boys and girls or men or women.

"As formerly all feather dusters, whip sticks, whips and canes and confetti, all explosives and such things are positively prohibited. We do not believe that this caution is necessary to our people, but it is for the guidance of those who have not celebrated Halloween with the town.

The local police force, the mill police force and the Volunteer Fire Department have been constituted a committee on Public Safety and are empowered fully to act as such. Any disorder may be reported to them.

"We would ask that all business men and citizens lend the same liberal aid that they have in the past. We recognize that Saturday night is a departure from previous celebrations, but there have been so many requests that this be tried, from those who otherwise could not be present, that the Saturday night will be tried. We again bespeak from everyone of all ages their best help in maintaining Scottdale's fame for this celebration.

Rheumatism in Ankles.

One Bottle of Rheuma Cured Woman Who Could Not Walk.

Marvelous as this story may seem, it is absolutely true, but this is only one of the many almost magical cures that Rheuma is performing these days.

Mrs. Gertrude Kozel, Smithfield, Pa., writes on Feb. 11, 1910: "I had Rheumatism for over a year; it settled in my ankles and I could not walk. I have taken one bottle of Rheuma and do not have any more pain, and can again walk at will."

A. A. Clark will sell any bottle of The Courier a bottle of Rheuma for 50 cents, and guarantees it to cure any case of any kind of Rheumatism or money back.

Gratifying relief comes in a day, because Rheuma acts at one time on the kidneys, stomach, liver and blood, and starts to rid the entire system of poisonous Uric Acid at once.

Mail orders filled, charges prepaid, by Rheuma Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Write for free trial bottle.

English Rheuma is the real remedy for Rheumatism. 25 cents at A. A. Clark's, or mailed by Rheuma Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

FINDS HER "SOUL MATE."

Mrs. Charles B. Galvin, Formerly Miss Antoinette Gazzam.

GALVIN IS HER IDEAL

Miss Gazzam, $3,000,000 Heiress, Marries Long Sought "Soul Mate." Newburg, N. Y., Oct. 19.—Being satisfied that Charles B. Galvin of New York, an engineer engaged on the New York aqueduct, is the "soul mate" she has been seeking for years, Miss Antoinette Reading Gazzam, the $3,000,000 heiress of Cornwall on the Hudson, has married him. The ceremony took place in St. Thomas's Roman Catholic church at Cornwall and was witnessed only by relatives of the contracting parties and several newspaper men.

Mrs. Galvin's mother is dead. Her father, who is still alive, was formerly a state senator of Pennsylvania.

TABERNACLE GOES UP IN SCOTSDALE

Big Structure That Evangelists Davis and Mills Will Use Arrives There.

SCOTSDALE, Oct. 19.—The long anticipated tabernacle which will be erected to accommodate the great crowd of people attending the evangelistic meetings, arrived yesterday and work was immediately begun on loading it. This morning workmen began putting up the steel frame and it is expected that the building will be ready for the opening service either Thursday or Friday night.

Last night the evangelistic choir led by Mr. Mills gathered at the corner of Broadway and Pittsburgh streets and sang a number of selections. The Girls' Brigade, headed by the Scottdale G. A. R. Band, marched from the Presbyterian Church to the meeting place where a procession was organized made up of the band, the brigade, choir, pastors and a large number of men and women. The long line made a good appearance, and a large number of people crowded the sidewalk to view the novel spectacle. The music at the church was out of the usual order. The brigade of girls sang "God Will Take Care of You," with excellent effect under Mr. Mills' leadership, and the audience showed its appreciation by applauding heartily. Mr. Mills sang the solo, "The Lord That Was Wounded For Me." Evangelist Davis did not preach a regular sermon but instead gave a Bible lesson on the subject "The Blood," which was equally interesting and helpful. The evangelist has a remarkably attractive manner of teaching that appeals to the interest of popular audiences.

ARTIFICIAL LIMBS.

Most manufactured for comfort, durability and general usefulness, hundreds of artificial limbs furnished. American Artificial Limb Mfg. Co. No. 611 Liberty St. opposite Smithfield, Pittsburgh, Pa.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR. Pittsburgh, Jan. 2, 1910. I lost my right leg in front of Petersburg, Va., during the Civil war, amputation in the thigh near the body. After my discharge from the service I tried a number of different makes and devices of artificial limbs, none of them proved satisfactory, then as a last resort I had you make me an Adjustable Limb. I am now a happy man and I can say that I am very satisfied with it. I do not wish to try any other. JOHN ASKIEY. On duty at Carnegie Library, Northside, 1 to 3 P. M.

May 25, 1909. I am highly pleased with the last leg you made for me. You certainly do splendid work and treat your patients right in every way. CHAS. DAWSON, With Pickering Furniture Co., 10th and Penn.

March 30, 1909. I have one leg amputated below the knee, and the other up in the thigh. I get around very well on the limbs you made me, and will certainly recommend your make of limbs whenever I have an opportunity to do so.

Yours truly, D. L. GIBSON, Pittsford, Pa. Yardmaster's office, 12, E. 11th. April 21, 1910. My new limbs are O. K. in all respects. My legs are both amputated below the knees. You certainly do splendid work and make a good and comfortable fit.

Y. M. C. A. Concert. Whitney Brothers, Friday, October 21, 1910.

"East Lynne." "East Lynne," the greatest story ever woven about women's wrongs, the favorite dramatic vehicle in the past of many famous actors and actresses, and one of the most powerful magnets in the theatrical field today, will be given a notably artistic presentation by Joseph King and A. E. Seymour's New York company at the Soisson theatre Saturday, Oct. 22, matinee and night. This greatest of emotional plays is one of the most dramatic treats of the season. It will be ably interpreted by the efforts of a carefully selected and well trained dramatic company. Everything required in the way of scenic equipment and accessories has been provided and competent stage direction will insure a smooth and well balanced performance.

"The Lottery Man." There is so much to enjoy, so much to laugh and howl at in Rida Johnson Young's "Lottery Man," which the Shuberts will bring to the Soisson theatre, Monday, Oct. 24 that a continuous engagement of six months at the Bijou theatre, New York, but served to show how inadequate the capacity of that house was for the numbers that were eager to laugh at the excruciatingly funny situations of the play nightly.

WELLMAN TELLS OF AIR VOYAGE.

Adventurers Had Dreadful
Experience Over
Ocean.

WATERY GRAVE IN PROSPECT

With Gasoline Supply Reduced and Balloon Settling and Barely Over Sea, Wellman and Companions Had About Given Up Hope.

London, Oct. 19.—A dispatch to the Telegraph from Atlantic City gives the following from Walter Wellman:

"S. S. Trent (via New York)—After passing Nantucket Sunday morning
we made, as estimated, 140 miles east southeast, drifting with a fresh breeze, without the motor. In the afternoon the wind was westerly and at 9 p. m.
our approximate position was latitude 42, longitude 67. Here the wind shifted to the northwest and blew thirty miles an hour.

Total Destruction Threatened.
"The equibrator pulled hard, riding
over the seas, jerking and shocking
the ship and settling up a rolling motion which threatened total destruction.

"It was a dreadful night, but the entire crew were calm and cheerful.
We were greatly exhausted. One after the other went to sleep, expecting to wake up in the ocean, but content to only keep above the water.

"The equibrator was dragging the America down and threatening to sweep away the lifeboat. Our only hope of saving ourselves. All hands agreed to attack by the ship. We threw over gasoline to lighten the ship.
"At 3 a. m. orders were given to start the motor to try to make Europe or the Azores. The wind held favorable, but soon veered off to the northeast. The Azores being impossible with the reduced gasoline it was decided to try to make Bermuda.

Throw Gasoline Overboard.
"We drifted to the southwest at about fifteen miles an hour, reversing the motor and gasoline for a final effort, being resolved to hold to the ship
as long as possible. On Monday night we jettisoned more gasoline and part of the machinery, which was damaged to keep afloat. During the cold night we realized that it was impossible to keep up another night.

"All Monday we kept afloat and none of us thought of giving up before the last hour unless we met a vessel.
The great danger was the equibrator smashing or foundering the life-boat, which was launched with difficulty in the high wind in the early morning. We saw the Trent when she was two hours away. It was our only chance to launch the lifeboat in the morning instead of waiting for night, when no help was near. This maneuver was executed cleverly. Captain Vanman bringing the America close to the sea and Simon directing the releasing of the boat."

"I TOLD YOU SO"—SIR HIRAM
Maxim Was Convinced Wellman
Could Not Cross Atlantic.

London, Oct. 19.—The news received here of the failure of the Wellman balloon expedition and the rescue of the crew lends interest to the prediction of Sir Hiram Maxim.
In an interview Sir Hiram said he was convinced that there was not the slightest chance of the airship America crossing the Atlantic. He said the airship would come down into the sea
after it had traveled barely a quarter of the distance. The leakage of the hydrogen through the envelopes
of the America, said Sir Hiram, certainly would be enough to bring down
the balloon inside of a week.

INSPECTOR STATION.
Will Recommend Changes After Visit
to Ellis Island.

New York, Oct. 19.—President
Taft's trip of inspection to Ellis Island will probably result in these recommendations.
That greater penalties be imposed upon steamship companies for transporting undesirable immigrants.
That legislation be passed by congress designed to prevent the separation of man or wife, or parents and children, as frequently happens
through the operation of the present immigration laws.

That any attempt to concentrate immigration to this country at the Ellis Island station be discouraged.
The last recommendation means that President Taft is against the proposition of enlarging the Ellis Island station to twice its capacity, as proposed by Commissioner of Immigration William W. Taft. It is in favor of encouraging those diverting immigration streams in every possible way.

HOFFSTOT GIVES SELF UP
New York Capitalist Surrenders to Pittsburgh Authorities—Gives Bail.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 19.—Frank N. Hoffstot, of New York, millionaire president of the Pressed Steel Car company, and banker, has surrendered to District Attorney William A. Blakeley.
Through Theodore W. Friend, oldest son of the late James W. Friend—the latter a former business partner of the defendant—$20,000 bail was furnished on charges of bribery and conspiracy in connection with the recent councilman graft scandal. Hoffstot fought extradition to Pennsylvania up to the United States supreme court, which ruled against him this week.

ONE DEAD; THREE HURT.

Workmen Caught at Bottom of Shaft
When Cage Drops.

Somerford, Pa., Oct. 19.—One man was killed and two others were injured in the shaft of the Quenahon-ing Coal company near here when a cage broke from its fastenings at the top of the shaft and caught the workmen 150 feet below.

The superintendent of construction,
James P. Kelly, sustained a fracture of the skull and other injuries which caused his death within an hour.
The injured were Elmer Nangle,
thirty-five years old, and Walter Wadsworth, thirty-two years, both of Somer-ford.

The three men were at work at the bottom of the shaft within a few feet of the cage landing when the ponderous lift broke from its fastenings and crashed with terrific speed to the bottom.

"SUNNY JIM" REFORMER.

Campaign Managers Agree Not to Buy
Any Votes This Election.

Ulster, N. Y., Oct. 19.—Vote buying in Oneida county, Vice President Sherman's home, has for many years been a business conducted on a generous scale and without any attempt at concealment, but this election the "floaters" are destined to have a simple election.

Edward P. Jordan and George T.
Davis, chairman of the Democratic and Republican county committees, have affixed their signatures to an agreement, pledging the two parties to use no more than $50 per district in the county for election expenses and none of this for the purpose of buying votes.

It has been estimated that there are upward of 2,000 purchasable votes in this city alone.

REVENUE CUTTERS.

Varied Duties of These Life Savers of the Sea.

No men in the employ of Uncle Sam render more efficient service than do those of the revenue cutter service.
The term "revenue," which would indicate that their duties were restricted to those pertaining to the proper enforcement of the revenue laws, can give but a faint notion of the varied duties
of this splendid corps of men.
As a matter of fact, revenue cutters are the life savers of the seas. They patrol the coasts on regular beats, on the watch for vessels in distress. They must suppress mutinies, prevent smuggling and illicit vent hunting; they must examine ships' papers, enforce quarantine regulations, supply lighthouses and in general do all kinds of police work. Then, too, they have been debated "the messenger boys of the seas."

Alexander Hamilton was the father of the revenue cutter service. For it was under his administration of the treasury department that, in 1791, ten cutters were built and put in commission under rules of his own devising.
In time of peace the cutters are under the supervision of the treasury department, but in times of war they are transferred to that of the navy department. Since the war of 1812 they have always rendered excellent service in the event of armed hostilities. Every one remembers the remarkable work done by the McClure, under Dewey,
at the battle of Manila Bay.—New York Press.

A GEM OF POESY.

Maybe It Was the Heat That Made It Burst Into Being.

Stewart Edward White, William
Kent and myself were hunting mountain sheep in the rugged Sierras of California. Perhaps because the sunny heat of the desert which we were crowding and somewhat gone to our brains we felt to making poetry upon various aspects of desert life. White rhymed upon the mountain, Kent rhymed upon the pack mule. I rhymed upon the sheep. The result was this: "The sheep who were so fat and fat, I love the music of their feet."
The duet was awarded to him without protest from the other contestants.

SECOND SUIT TO BE ENTERED
Children of "Bob" Chanler Want to Be Assured of Funds.

New York, Oct. 19.—A second suit
to set aside the conveyance of Robert W. Chanler's property to Nathaniel Chanler is to be brought in behalf of the two children of Mrs. Julia Chamberlain Chanler, the first wife.
Mrs. Chanler has already sued in her own behalf and has obtained temporary injunction restraining the payment of any money out of the Chanler trust funds except to herself.

LINER PICKS UP WELLMAN PARTY.

Miles Out Over
Ocean.

WIRELESS TELLS OF RESCUE

Balloons Find It Risky Work Leaving Giant Airship and Three Hours
Time Is Consumed in Making the Transfer.

New York, Oct. 19.—Walter Wellman and his five companions, who last Saturday morning sailed from Atlantic City in the dirigible balloon America in an attempt to fly to Europe along the northern steamship route, were picked up at sea by the Royal Mail
packet company's steamship Trent, Captain C. E. Dean, bound for New York, via the Bermudas, at a point about 375 miles east of Norfolk, Va.,
and about 250 miles northwest of Bermuda.

The America, after a record flight
for dirigibles of about seventy hours,
was sighted close to the water in distress and was abandoned by Wellman and his crew, all of whom sought safety aboard the Trent with the help of the dirigible's lifeboat.

Story of Rescue.
By wireless messages sent here by Operator Ginsburg of the Trent the time and manner of rescue is as follows:

Daylight was rapidly approaching
when the airship and the steamer came in sight of each other. By wireless the America asked the steamer to follow in the wake of the airship.
The America was then drifting above the waves at a speed of twelve miles an hour. The Trent dove to upon sighting the airship and spent three hours in all maneuvering and picking up Wellman, Vanman and their assistants.

Risky Work Launching Lifeboat.
A conference was held as to the best means of getting from the framework of the airship to the deck of the Trent. The best means, it was decided, would be to launch the America's lifeboat. Much danger attended the launching and a great deal of time was consumed owing to the possibility of the lifeboat, being upset
any moment by the long equibrator
of the balloon—a string of small tanks of gasoline hanging in links from the America and trailing in the waves.

While the launching was under way
the brisk wind caused the equibrator
to sway violently and to strike Operator Jack Irwin and Louis Leland, one of the assistant engineers, as they were lowering themselves. They were lowering themselves. They were not seriously injured. The equibrator at one time swung against the frail lifeboat of canvas and mahogany veneer violently enough to knock a hole in the side and cause serious trouble.

Balloon Abandoned.
Upon being free of the weight of the crew the airship immediately shot skyward as the lifeboat was taking the water. The sea that was running at the time was moderate, and the airship had great difficulty in reaching the Trent and finding that steamship.

The balloon, now a speck in the sky, was left to the winds to founder in the Atlantic, when the gas had escaped.
None of the aeronauts was found to have suffered seriously from his adventures.

World's Record Made.
Although Wellman had been blown far from his course by the winds that began to come out of the northwest last night, thereby making his announced plans futile, the flight establishes a world's record for dirigibles was held by Count Zeppelin, who last year flew from Dusseldorf to Bitterfeld and return, a total distance of 810 miles, in thirty-eight hours.

The record for time and distance of a non dirigible balloon was made in a flight about eighty years ago from England to the center of Russia, a distance of 1,112 miles in seventy-two hours, which is only a shade over the America's flight so far as time is concerned.

SHOT BY HIS NEPHEW
Centerville (Pa.) Man Meets With Accidental Death.

Mendville, Pa., Oct. 19.—While returning from a hunt William Rice, aged fifty-seven, was accidentally shot
by his nephew, Ernest Lantz, near the Rice home at Centerville. Lantz was walking in the rear and a barrel of his gun was accidentally discharged,
the lead lodging in Rice's right thigh.
He died before assistance could be rendered, a large artery having been severed. He leaves a large family.

CAPITOL GRAFT RETURNED
Wetter Sentenced to Make Restitution
to Pennsylvania of $14,000.

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 19.—Charles G. Wetter, who pleaded nolo contendere to a charge of fifth degree in overcharging the state in a contract to fit up the capitol attic, was sentenced to pay the costs and make restitution to the state in the sum of $14,000, the amount conceded by counsel for both sides to be the over-charge.

The sentence was preceded by statements from counsel in which they detalled the unanimity with which they had arrived at an agreement Wetter arranged to at once pay the money.

CUBS EASY FOR THE ATHLETICS.

Second Game of Series a Walk Over for Mack's Men.

COLLINS' PLAYING THE FEATURE

Game is Marked by Poor Pitching by Both Sides—Brown is Knocked Off Stab and Combs is Saved Only by Brilliant Fielding.

BRIEF FACTS OF SERIES.

Games won, Athletics, 2; Chicago, 0. Score second game, Athletics, 9; Chicago, 3. Attendance, 24,597. Total receipts for two games, $72,551.50. Players' share, $39,183.21. Each club's share, $19,591.60. For national commission, $7,255.45. Next game tomorrow at Chicago.

Philadelphia, Oct. 19.—The Athletics made a show of the Cubs in the second game for the world's championship.

Led by Eddie Collins, who made three hits, two of them doubles, the Athletics' league champions pounded Minor Brown to bits. After several innings, in which they had him in bad straits, the home clubbers fell on him in the seventh inning and slashed his delivery for six runs.

Ran Bases With Freedom. The Athletics ran bases all around the Cubs and had these veterans as far up in the air as if they had been minor leaguers. Richie was sent in for the losing inning to face the Athletics and escaped miserably.

Thousands of those who came to see the second game quit early and by the time the last out was made nearly half the seats were empty. The crowd apparently did not have the least fear that the Cubs were going to rally, and, indeed, a more soundly beaten bunch than the National League it would be hard to find. The score was 9 to 3.

Combs Was Lucky. But for the matter of that Combs was lucky to get away with his name. It was only the wonderful fielding of the Athletics that saved him time and again. He had his side in difficulties every inning but two. He pitched a very inferior game, uneven and uncertain. But just as soon as he worked himself into a bad place along came a star play of some sort by his support and the knot was untied. The Athletics made three double plays to save Combs and one of them was the finest bit of fielding seen hereabouts in some years.

Five Double Plays. With the bases full and out in the fourth, Chance, the Cub leader, drove a fly, high but not deep, to right field. It looked like a certain sacrifice. Murphy came in and caught it. He fished the ball straight and true to Thomas so that it got to him on a short bound and the catcher was waiting for Minor Brown, no slow runner, when the pitcher reached the plate, and the other doubles were just as handy, too.

Let it be mentioned that Collins, who figured in both the other double plays accepted ten chances safely, scored two runs, made three hits in four times up and stole two bases on the reboundable Kling.

Collins on the Job. Collins was the star, chiefly because he drove in the Athletics' first two runs with a sparkling double down the leftfield line, but the whole Athletic crowd was there with the batting eye.

Every man made at least one hit and they were all clean solid smashes that rang off the bat in good style. There was more free hitting by the present Athletics than the Cubs are accustomed to meeting.

It is a curious thing about the crowds that have been here the two days of the world's series that, although large and appreciative of good ball playing, they are devoid of enthusiasm for brief moments only. Applaud they do, but by handclapping as much as anything.

Philadelphians Take Things Easy. They don't begin to compare with the New York or Chicago crowds for vociferous demonstrations of pleasure, and the baseball writers from other towns, as well as some of the professional ball players who are acting as correspondents, have remarked upon it.

There is not any really frantic rush to get into the park and there isn't any dashing out of the place. They are glad to beat the Cubs for sure, but as for fire and high excitement they are not there.

Cubs in Taxi Collision. It is to be wondered, perhaps, whether an accident in which several of the Cub players were, had anything to do with their being a bit up in the air. A taxicab in which were Steinfeldt, Zimmerman, Overall, Kane and McIntyre struck a mail wagon on Twentieth street, near Girard avenue, when the players were on their way to Shibe park, and all the men were tossed out. They weren't hurt but were shaken up.

Thought Hunter Was Deer. Miles N. Y. Oct. 19. Roy Wilk, aged twenty-six of Hackensack, was shot in mistake for a deer.
